It's love at first type

Secretaries fall in love with the AMES III typewriter the first time they use it. Designed from the start to make their job easier, simpler and faster, the AMES III offers the reliability and convenience features secretaries—and their bosses—look for.

This machine does everything that's expected from a modern office typewriter—and then some. And it does it with the precision and reliability of a fine instrument that was built by Swiss craftsmen. It helps improve office efficiency and productivity by making the typing job easier. And it produces the attractive correspondence and documents you always wanted to see.

The AMES III is an investment in efficiency, productivity and happy people. It's love at first type for the lucky secretary who uses one.

AMES III

everything
you expect and more from a professional office electric typewriter

1. Unique dual mode correcting system lets you correct errors in the conventional manner—backwards, one letter at a time—or you can correct a complete word, even a whole line of type, by going over it again forward just the way you normally type
2. Start every page in exactly the same position without a lot of adjusting—simply push the automatic paper insertion button and presto, the paper stops right where you want it, page after page
3. Paper removal is just as fast and convenient, one touch and the machine rolls it out quietly, quickly
4. Pick the type style that best fits the job at hand from a wide selection of typing elements
5. Dual pitch lever lets you choose either 10 or 12 characters per inch, to make correspondence and documents look just the way you like
6. Red light lets you know the typewriter is really on—it's so quiet you may not notice otherwise
7. Platen release with line memory lets you type subscripts, super-scripts or anywhere between lines—and then return to the precise line spacing you had before
8. Every AMES III typing element provides 94 characters and symbols—that's 6 more than most other typewriters
9. Half-space lever lets you retype a word within the same space if you forgot a letter—or had one letter more than you wanted
10. And, of course, the AMES III gives you all the standard features, too, such as repeat characters and functions, easy to set margins, easy to set tabulator, express return of the typing unit, end-of-page indicator, and many more

Secretaries love the AMES III

It makes their job easier, more enjoyable. With the AMES III, typing is no longer a matter of "man against machine". The AMES III complements rather than challenges the skills of the typist.

Secretaries love the Swiss-made precision because it assures them of reliable, trouble-free typing . . . and, they love its quietness. So quiet, in fact, that we had to put a light into the On/Off switch to make sure they know when the machine is on.

Managers love the AMES III

Because secretaries love to use it, it makes them more efficient, more productive. That's what managers love. Managers also like the built-in reliability of a typewriter that's made by Swiss craftsmen, because it means low maintenance cost and less downtime. And they appreciate the new-found quietness in the office that's so conducive to improved efficiency.

Whether secretary or manager, when you put the AMES III in the office it's love at first type.

Like the typewriter itself, AMES ribbons are specifically designed to produce the most attractive results possible.
